

Deontay Wright
Principal Financial Analyst
BAE Systems

Deontay Wright is a Principal Financial Analyst at BAE Systems, Inc. in the District of Columbia, Washington Metro Area. He currently supports Independent Cost Evaluations (ICE), a niche group in Finance. As a lead analyst, he is assisted with providing independent cost evaluations to senior leaders and executives on high programs and proposals. During his time at BAE Systems, Deontay has received 9 IMPACT awards for exceeding expectations and adding value in many facets of the company.

In his former role, Deontay was a Senior Contract Administrator for BAE Systems at the historical Radford Army Ammunition Plant (RFAAP) in Radford, VA. He was responsible for managing contractual obligations, reviewing complex solicitations strategically mitigating risk through terms and conditions, and negotiating multi-million-dollar Department of Defense (DoD) contracts.

Deontay began his career as a Risk Assurance Associate with PwC in which he conducted SOX, information technology, financial, and other regulatory / compliance audits. He is a fraternity member of Kappa Alpha Psi and Pi Sigma Epsilon National Sales, Marketing, and Management Fraternity. Additionally, Deontay is a member of the National Association of Black Accountants (NABA) - DC Metro Chapter, the International Cost Estimating & Analysis Association (ICEAA), and the National Contract Management Association (NCMA).

With an earnest desire to pay it forward, Deontay provides career mentorship and guidance to peers, colleagues, students, and recent graduates. He is passionate about financial literacy and poverty alleviation efforts. In his free time, he enjoys exploring culinary arts, photography, and traveling. Deontay is a native of East Saint Louis, IL. He is also a graduate of Tuskegee University in which he obtained a Bachelor of Science in Accounting in 2014.