

THOMAS FOLEY, ESQ

Developing, launching, and strategically building businesses is the common thread through Tom's 25 years of professional work.

Tom started his career practicing law in New York, handling large civil litigation, mergers & acquisitions, and business law. He has since driven social impact. Indeed, Indigo's guiding business principle is "Passion, purpose, principle, and profit – in that order."

In 2017, Tom made the strategic decision to shift Indigo's primary focus from business consulting

Tom is a Fellow of the Dallas Economic Leadership Academy through the Aspen Institute and Of Counsel at Wright Connatser.

Tom earned his J.D. from the Villanova University School of Law and his B.A. from Colgate University. He lives in Dallas, TX with his wife, Roopa, and two children.